The keyword search for subjects unfortunately sometimes only works with German keywords. We thank you for your understanding and hope to find a better solution in the future.

The advantage of the "Programs" section is that the study level is indicated (e.g. B.Sc.) which is very useful in finding suitable courses for your exchange semester.

The column "Curricula" can be disregarded. It gives information on the study and examination regulations that apply to the subject area (not relevant for exchange students).

GOOD TO KNOW:

FACULTIES	The University of Bayreuth has seven faculties: Faculty I: Faculty of Mathematics, Physics & Computer Science Faculty II: Faculty of Biology, Chemistry & Earth Sciences Faculty III: Faculty of Law, Business & Economics Faculty IV: Faculty of Languages & Literatures Faculty V: Faculty of Humanities & Social Sciences Faculty VI: Faculty of Engineering Science Faculty VII: Faculty of Life Sciences: Food, Nutrition & Health
LANGUAGE OF INSTRUCTION	German is the main language of instruction at the University of Bayreuth. Some programmes and courses are also taught in English. The availability of English-taught courses may vary between study programmes.
ADMISSION	Please note that the admission to the University of Bayreuth must be in coherence with the study programme at your home institution. Having enrolled, exchange students at UBT are relatively free to choose from all available courses. When in doubt, please contact your departmental coordinator for further consultation.
DEPARTMENTAL COORDINATORS	While the International Office supports you with general and administrative questions on your exchange semester, every study area has also its own departmental coordinator who consults students on academic matters (e.g. courses, credits, etc.). Within the Erasmus programme, this is also the responsible person to sign your Erasmus Learning Agreement. You can find the contact details of your departmental coordinator on our website.

COURSE TYPES	There are different course types at the University of Bayreuth: • Course / Lehrveranstaltung: Term to describe different kinds of courses. The most common ones are lectures, exercise courses, tutorials and seminars. • Lecture / Vorlesung: Usually held by a professor. It often serves as basis of a course. The theoretical foundations of the course are conveyed here. • Tutorial / Tutorium: Type of course where lecture topics are repeated and sometimes applied practically. • Seminar: Type of lecture where a smaller group of students works on a certain topic under the guidance of a professor or lecturer. At the end of a seminar, a seminar paper is often required as proof of performance. • Excercise / Übung: Similar to the tutorial. Contents from the lectures are repeated and applied. • Practical / Praktikum: Not to be confused with the internship, this is a course in which theoretical knowledge can be applied in practice.
CREDITS	If you complete a course or exam successfully, you will receive Credit Points (CP) / Leistungspunkte (LP). The University of Bayreuth uses the ECTS framework (European Credit Transfer and Accumulation System) that makes academic performance comparable, transferable and valid internationally. 1 CP therefore translates to 1 ECTS. Not to be confused with the abbreviation SWS (Semesterwochenstunden) that indicates the number of teaching hours (45 minutes each) the course takes place per week throughout the semester. It does not give any evidence about the workload.
GERMAN LANGUAGE COURSES	Students will have the opportunity to attend free German courses at our Sprachenzentrum (Language Center) during the semester once they enroll at the University of Bayreuth. Additionally, intensive German language courses (fee-based) will be held by the IIK Bayreuth (Institute for International Communication and Foreign Cultural Exchange), an institute linked to the university. Please visit the IIK website for more detailed information.
COURSE REGISTRATION	As the University of Bayreuth always tries to provide up-to-date learning experiences with new and interesting topics, the final course catalogue for each semester is only available shortly before the beginning of the semester: • winter semester courses - from end of August/beginning of September • summer semester courses - from end of January/beginning of February). Previous semesters can be used as a reference for Learning Agreements or study plans (if your home university requires such documentation). Course registration takes place within the first couple of weeks of the semester. You need to be enrolled officially at the University of Bayreuth in order to be able to register for courses. Further information on the course registrations process will be provided during Orientation Week (attendance mandatory for exchange students).
